

Scope Plane

What they say they need it

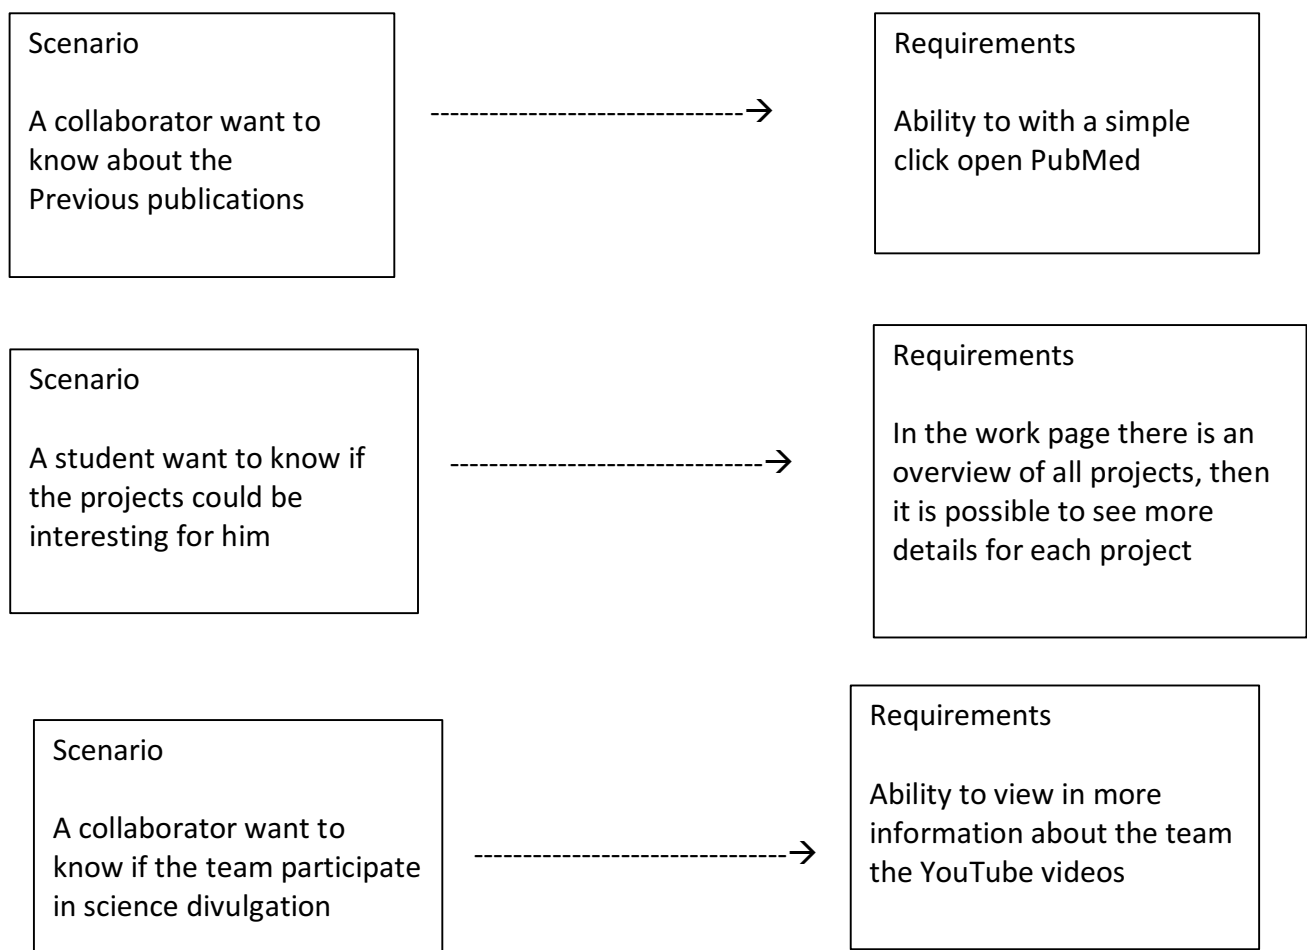

- A Website
- Potential collaborators can see what they are doing and contact them
- To publicity they work and analysis inside Erasmus MC
- To showcase the project that they are working in
- To add links to their Facebook, LinkedIn, PubMed and Google Scholar to check previous publications

What they actually need

- A mobile-first responsive website
- A Work page with a description to the collaboration projects ongoing along with the description of the group team
- A contact page
- Links to the publication records.

What they don't know they need

- More visualising for their work also for student to attract master student for internships

Scenario

A collaborator want to know where is the Bioinformatics lab located

Requirements

Ability to click in the google maps button to directly see where the lab is located